

No	Recommendation	Images	Comments
1	Each area should write up a 'partnership in practice' plan
2	Every area should have Local Area Coordinators
3	Everyone with a learning disability who wants to, should be able to have a 'personal life plan'
4	The Scottish Government should set up a 'change fund' to help this work
5	Anyone who wants direct payments should be able to have one.
6	The Scottish Consortium for Learning Disability should be set up
7	There should be a national network for people with an autistic spectrum disorder

No	Recommendation	Images	Comments
8	We should find out how best to provide good information services for people with learning disabilities and their carers.
9	Local plans should work out how to make sure that everyone who needs help is known, (Local registers)
10	There should be a review of the effectiveness of funding speech and language therapy for everyone
11	Local independent advocacy services should be encouraged
12	all remaining long-stay hospitals for people with learning disabilities should be closed by 2005
13	Health boards should reduce special places and develop more community places for people with learning disabilities

No	Recommendation	Images	Comments
14	Health Boards should work hard with other bodies to make more community services
15	Local authorities and health boards, should develop more modern, services to support people in the community through employment, lifelong learning and getting them involved socially.
16	Local authorities need to develop a range of employment opportunities for people with learning disabilities. They should employ more people with learning disabilities
17	Scottish Government should tackle problems with welfare benefits and support for people with learning disabilities
18	Local authorities should make sure that people with learning disabilities can use public services

No	Recommendation	Images	Comments
19	Health Boards should help to develop community based short breaks alongside local authorities.
20	Short break and shared care arrangements for children and adults should be easy to arrange.
21	There should be a long-term programme to promote public awareness about learning disabilities.
22	The Scottish Government should develop National Care Standards Committee which look at assessing and managing risk in working with vulnerable people
23	All public bodies should develop policies and guidelines on protecting vulnerable adults.

No	Recommendation	Images	Comments
24	The Scottish Government should make sure there is the school support system work well for young people (Future Needs Assessment)
25	There should be more help to look for early signs of dementia and to provide help.
26	Life plans for people with learning disabilities who live with their parents should include plans for a time when parents may no longer be able to provide care.
27	There should be special support such as additional support teams to improve services for people with learning disabilities who have challenging behaviour to help people stay in their own homes as far as possible.
28	There should be more research into the number and needs of people with learning disabilities in prison or in

No	Recommendation	Images	Comments
	secure accommodation There should be an appropriate adult scheme in place to meet the needs of people with learning disabilities who come into contact with the police.
29	Special attention should be paid to the extra needs of those with profound and multiple disabilities and those of their carers.	