Proud to be Scottish inside the United Kingdom (with England, Wales and Northern Ireland)

Better Together is a campaign that believes Scotland is better and stronger as part of the United Kingdom (UK).

Campaign means a group of people working together to achieve something they really believe in.

On 18 September 2014 people will vote about Scotland's future. This is called a referendum. There are 2 choices:

- Yes – I want Scotland to leave the UK.
- No – I do not want Scotland to leave the UK.

NO

Better Together believes that a 'No' vote is the best choice for Scotland. We are putting aside political differences to do the right thing for Scotland. We all strongly believe that Scotland will be safer and better if it stays part of a bigger UK.

We are all proud to be Scottish and we know that there is nowhere better than Scotland. But most of us also feel at least a bit British.

+

We don't have to choose between being Scottish and British. In fact 800,000 of us live and work in other parts of the UK. Many of us have family from across the whole of the UK.

For 300 years Scotland has been a proud country inside the UK. This is especially true now when we have our own Scottish Parliament.

Devolution gives us the best of both worlds

Devolution means being part of the UK but having our own parliament which makes important decisions for Scotland.

Devolution gives us the best of both worlds: we have a strong Scottish Parliament which makes decisions in Scotland about Scotland. But we still get the benefits of sharing things with the rest of the UK.

We know it sometimes makes sense to share things with the rest of the UK. We understand that some things are easier when your friends and family are next to you. We are stronger when we work together.

➤ In the Scottish Parliament we decide what is best for our universities. AND our universities get UK money for Scottish scientists, doctors and inventors.

➤ We make decisions about the National Health Service (NHS) in Scotland. AND we get free, easy access to the specialist treatment our families need anywhere in the UK NHS.

➤ We benefit from the success of the Scottish Parliament. AND we benefit from sharing many good things with the rest of the UK.

Working together to bring out the best in Scotland

We can bring out the best of Scotland by working together across the UK. We have achieved so much together. Working together in the future we can achieve so much more.

UK money makes green energy jobs and scientific research possible in Scotland. This is also true for the shipyards that give jobs to thousands of people. In return, the rest of the UK benefits from:

- ✓ Scottish clean energy.
- ✓ Medical research and inventions from Scottish universities.
- ✓ Royal Navy ships built by clever Scottish engineers.

Everyone will be poorer if the 4 nations of the UK do not stick together.

Can we afford it?

Being part of the bigger UK is good for jobs in Scotland:

- Scottish companies sell 4 times as many products to the rest of the UK as to the rest of the world.
- 200,000 Scottish jobs are with companies which sell pensions and mortgages, where nearly all the customers are from the rest of the UK.

Staying in the UK makes good money sense:

- We get the benefit of North Sea oil through spending £1,200 more on each person than the rest of the UK. When the oil runs out, the cost of cleaning up the oil fields will be shared by all the UK.

We are stronger when we work together.

Keeping the Pound

The UK pound is one of the oldest, strongest and best kinds of money in the world.

As part of the UK, we can decide that we do not want to use European money (called the Euro). Using the UK pound means that we have not suffered as badly from the recent money problems Europe has had.

When Scottish banks had problems, a Scottish chancellor in the UK government put in a lot of money to stop them going bust. The UK government was able to protect our savings, mortgages and bank accounts. Taxpayers across the UK paid for this.

The only way to make sure we keep the pound is for Scotland to stay in the UK.

A powerful voice in the world

As part of the UK, we enjoy very special membership of the European Union (EU). The EU is a group of 28 countries who work together.

Because of its power in Europe the UK was able to make some special deals which have been good for Scotland. A separate Scotland would have to get special permission to use its own money instead of the Euro. No new EU country has been able to get this permission.

The EU has a big effect on our lives. This means it is important for Scotland to have a strong voice when important decisions are made. As part of the UK we have this strong voice. It does not make sense to put this in danger by breaking up the UK.

If Scotland left the UK, it would have to ask again to become a member of the EU.

Our pensions are safer as part of the UK

We are living longer and working longer than ever before. People want to know that their pensions are safe.

The UK State Pension means that everyone in the UK can get the same basic State Pension. It is a great example of how we share good things across the UK. We all pay in when we are working, and we all benefit when we retire.

This means we can support all our pensioners in the same way whether times are good or bad.

Scotland's people are getting older at a faster rate than the rest of the UK. This is good but it means that if we leave the UK we could have a difficult choice to make between:

- Cutting the state pension.
- Increasing the age when people stop working.
- Increasing taxes.
- Cutting costs somewhere else.

It's not worth the risk

If we vote to leave the UK we will have just over 500 days before we have to set up a separate country. Here are some of the big questions for which we have no answers:

- What money would we use?
- Would a foreign country decide our mortgage rates?
- How would benefits and pensions be paid?
- How much money would Scotland owe and how would we pay this money?
- What would happen to our army, navy and air force?

Without the answers to these questions, a vote to leave the UK would be a huge leap into the dark. This is such a big decision that we need to be sure about it.

NO

We should say no to the danger and uncertainty of leaving the UK. The best decision for Scotland is to vote for a better future working together.
